DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kagen et al US Patent 5,618,045 in view of Eiba US Patent 6,117,013. The rejection of the previous office action is maintained and incorporated herein.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 6/27/01 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. With respect to applicants remark that Kagen does not consider a addressed connection the examiner would like to point out that the above rejection is Kagen in view of Eiba. What Kagen lacks Eiba discloses. Additionally, the game system of Eiba inherently uses an addressed connection. It is inherent in the use of cell phone technology that each cell phone utilizes a specific address in order to access the network. This is a well known feature of cell phones and is the way in which when a person calls you on your cell phone only your cell phone rings. With respect to the applicant's argument that the master stores at least the name of the current game, identification and addresses of all players in the current game and any other game related information needed by the players is not claimed. In addition, Kagen discloses the transfer of all needed information between all of the players column 2 lines 37-47 and columns 5 and 6. With respect to applicants remaining arguments Kagen discloses an interactive game system that utilizes all of the claimed features of the instant application with the exception of some of the teachings of Eiba that are directed towards the better utilization of existing hardware.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
